Wyomissing Corporate Campus - Reading, PA

Activity in the Wyomissing Corporate Campus saw a boost last year, with the addition of two large medical tenants to the complex. In order to encourage continued interest in the area, and accommodate the growth of the local medical and office market, Kinsley began construction of a fourth building in the spring. The building will consist of 27,200 square feet of space, available for fit-out to an office or medical business.

Waterloo Crossing - Columbia, MD

The recent completion of the first building of the Waterloo Crossing has been promising. Leasing activity on the building is so encouraging that Kinsley opted to start construction of a second building in the campus to accommodate the growth of the Columbia, MD medical community. The second building will consist of roughly 14,000 square feet of medical office space.
